Parents Afterward. Mr. J. O. Silcott, an employe of the House document room and son of Cashler Silcott, of the sergeaut-at-arms' office, was married to Miss Phil, Stearns, an estimable young lady of Capitol Hill, last Tuesday evening. There may appear little that is strange in this, but it may appear little that is strange in this, but it seems that the young folks, in their hurry to take their marriare vows, forgot the usual formality of obtaining the consent of their parents. Young Silcot left the capitol after adjournment, and instead of going home went to the house of the young lady and took her out for a walk. They proceeded to the residence of Mr. Meles, the cierc of the court, got a license, and then went to the residence of Rev. Dr. Parsons, where they were united in compliance with the authority of the license. When the groom presented his fair bride to his parents there was nothing to do but to say: "Bless you, my children." The bride is a niece of Gov. Foraker, of Ohio."

Good Templar Work. Clements Lodge of Good Templars began the new official term at its meeting on last Tuesday with an unusually large attendance and the initiation of three new members. In the large initiation of three new members. In the large numbers who have recently been admitted the lodge has had an opportunity to become thoroughly familiar with the new ritual which has been embraced by the officers. The usual informal reception was even more than usually enjoyable, and afterward the lodge entered upon the practical work apperiating to the lodge and order, of which a great deal was done. The lodge will attend in a body the Good Templas mass meeting at Congressional Church next study afternoon. The officers of the past quarter submitted their reports, which showed the lodge in the cycly department to enjoy prosperity. Mr. George J. Nash, the lodge doputy, assisted by Mr. W. H. Hodges as marshal, installed the following officers for the present term: F. A. Harrison, chief tempars. Dr. J. T. Hensley, secretary: E. R. Maboney, financial secretary: Mrs. M. R. Mahoney, treasurer; Miss May Gullford, chaptain; Charles Baden, marshal, Miss Molly Pation, deputy marshal; Miss Hattle Jones, guard; Wm. Clark, sentinel, and A. Kaistrou, pass cinef templar. Mr. F. PAVING THE STREETS.

Why the Appropriations Are Expended Chiefly on Thoroughfares. Sepator Ingail has been informed by the commissioners that the reason for the nonpaving of Kingman Place—a short street be-tween Thirteenth and Fourteenth and P and Qstreets—is that such places are passed over in Ostreets—is that such places are passed over in order to give the numbered and lettered streets and the avenues a chance. Jefferson Place Ritiger Place, Sunderland Place, Riggs street, and others have been paved under the "permit system," and it has been held that the interests of the city are benefited by expending the appropriations on thoroughtares rather than on streets cut through squares, which is simply done for the purpose of putting the land on the market.

are of the best materials, though the price is only 85c each. Time, experience, and success have enabled us to embrace every opportunity for improvement or advantageous purchase. The linens for the fronts and cuffs come direct from Iraiaud; the muslins direct from the milis; the sawing machines run by steam; the hands who work the button holes have become quick and perfect. The factory turns out many thousands of shirts yearly. Small profits, perhaps, but good shirts at low prices, mean large sales.

A PLAIN STATEMENT. WE HAD A FIRE IN OUR STORE,

Not a garment was burned, not more than a dozen wet, but all our ready-made goods on the first and second floors WERE SMOKED. Not enough to show, but leaving strong enough odor of smoke TO KEEP OUT MOTHS. We now offer every garment

on these floors at ONE-HALF REGULAR PRICES

FOR NET CASH TO ALL. The original tickets and prices are still on the garments. You simply divide them by two and find present prices. We must get this stock out of the way in time for spring goods, and now is your time to buy.
